The Transportation Coalition of Tennessee, launched in January of 2015, is proud of the work it has done so far to educate Tennesseans about the need to adequately fund our state’s transportation infrastructure for Tennesseans, our visitors and commercial industries.

Our transportation system plays a critical role in the well-being and growth of Tennessee. In 2016, the Transportation Coalition looks forward to further educating Tennesseans across the state about the need to find a long-term, sustainable solution to fund necessary road and bridge projects – including approved but unfunded transportation infrastructure projects totaling $6.1 billion, as provided to the General Assembly in March 2015 by TDOT, and a list of new transportation infrastructure projects totaling $5.3 billion, as released by Gov. Bill Haslam in November 2015.

PUT IN PERSPECTIVE:

Each 1-cent-per-gallon increase in the user fee would cost the average driver $7.50 annually.
